

1 THE COURT: Okay, ladies and gentlemen. We will take
2 our evening recess now.

3 Remember all the cautionary instructions that I gave 4 you about keeping yourself apart and separate and not 5 reading, seeing or hearing anything.

6 Now, they tell me that there was television coverage
7 last night. There probably will be tonight. Don't watch
8 it. It was on the radio this morning. I heard it. Don't 9 listen to it. There is newspaper coverage tonight. It's on 10 the front page of the paper of the Herald Palladium and goes
11 over, I think, onto page two. Don't read it. Whoever you 12 live with, if you take a newspaper routinely or you take 13 these materials routinely into your home, ask them to please
14 put it all aside for you, the newspapers. Put them aside.
15 If you want to read them later on when this is over with,
16 you may, of course, do this. But you absolutely may not 17 read that material at this time, nor may you conduct any 18 investigation on your own, nor may you talk to anyone or let 19 anyone talk to you about the case.

20 I hear some of the people -- my reporter said he went 21 fishing with his kid last night. That's a good way to 22 relax. Working in your garden or doing any of the other 23 things.

24 Put it out of your mind.

25 Take care of your calls that you need to make for your
